Roundtable: Teaching Methods in Public Affairs

Azalea Coast Room B – 2001B Fisher University Union

Description: This panel will discuss current issues and approaches to teaching research methods in political science and public administration. Panelists will share their experiences teaching undergraduate and graduate methods courses with the goal of identifying trends in student needs, learning outcomes, and technology use (both in in-person and online modes of instruction). Similarities and differences in course content, assignments, and application of research methods beyond the classroom will be discussed. The second part of the panel will engage with the audience in clarifying what skills and knowledge sets our students need for the current job market world (e.g. data generation, management, analysis, interpretation, and technology competencies).

Focus Group: Assessing the State of Public-Facing Academia

Azalea Coast Room B – 2001B Fisher University Union

Description: Academics in our discipline have many teaching, research, and service obligations. This means faculty must often prioritize one dimension of their jobs over the others. In this focus group, I am interested to learn your perspective on public-facing scholarship. Is this something academics (and their institutions) should prioritize? What are the incentives to engage (or not engage) in these types of activities? Whether you participate in public-facing efforts or not, or if you want to learn more about the experiences of your colleagues, please join us for an interactive focus group.

Facilitator: Dr. Aaron S. King, UNC Wilmington, kinga@uncw.edu

Dr. Aaron S. King, NCPA President-Elect and Associate Professor of Political Science, UNCW

Dr. Jamie Winebrake, UNCW Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs

Dr. Mark Imperial, NCPAA Board Member, UNCW MPA Director, and Professor of Public Administration

Dr. Angela Wright-Lanier, Executive Director for the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs, and Administration (NASPAA)

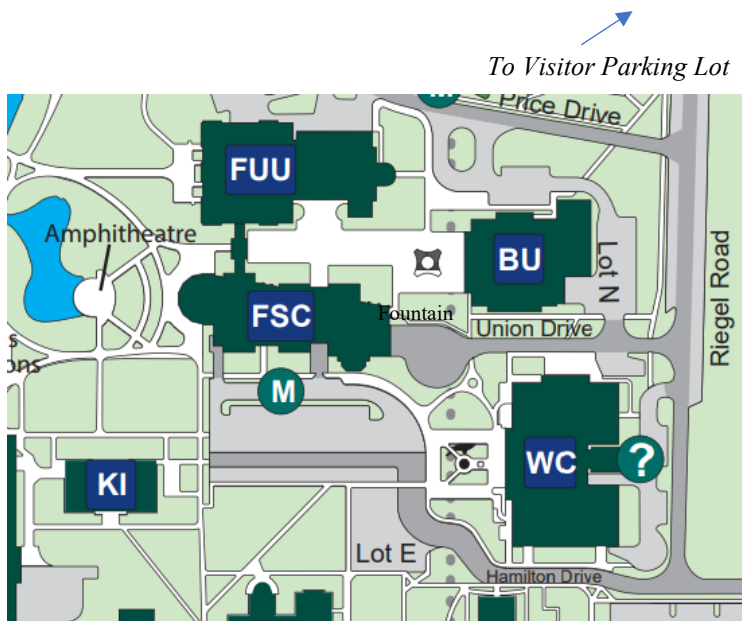

NCPA/NCPAA Awards & Association Business

Dr. Angel Wright-Lanier is the executive director & CEO of the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs, and Administration (NASPAA). NASPAA is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) membership association with over 300 institutional member schools at domestic and international universities that award degrees in Public Administration, Public Policy, Public Affairs, Nonprofit studies, and related fields. NASPAA is recognized as the global accreditor of master's degree programs in these fields.

Before joining NASPAA, Dr. Wright-Lanier was an assistant manager for Goldsboro, Mooresville, Fayetteville, and Cumberland County, North Carolina. During this time, she managed more than twenty-two different departments. She began her local government career as an operations analyst at the City of Raleigh in the Finance Department. After three years, she was promoted to the City Manager's office, where she was the city's first intergovernmental relations manager. Dr. Wright-Lanier successfully developed the city's first grants initiative, allowing her to work with department heads and the local Raleigh delegation to win millions of dollars in federal grants.

Dr. Wright-Lanier is a member of the International City/County Management Association (ICMA). She received her ICMA Credentialed Manager designation in 2018, and in 2021, Dr. Wright-Lanier received an ICMA Service Award in honor of her 20 years of service to local government.

Dr. Wright-Lanier received her undergraduate degree from The University of Tennessee, Knoxville. She has a master's degree in Public Administration from The University of Tennessee, Chattanooga, and a second master's degree in Management Information Systems. She was awarded her Ed.D. from Vanderbilt University's Peabody College with a concentration in Leadership and Learning.

Our luncheon will take place in the Warwick Center (WC). If you depart the Fisher University Union (FUU) by walking past the Chic-fil-a, or if you leave the Fisher Student Center (FSC) by walking past the Starbucks, you will see a large fountain in front of the Burney Center (BU). Walk under the colonnade and you will see the Warwick Center. In a pinch, put "Warwick Center" in Google Maps!
